Security & Protection Services

- Axios Investigations Firm (AIF) has earned the trust of elite clients worldwide to include government diplomats, ambassadors, corporate executives, VIPs, and other high net-worth individuals. Clients rely on our expertise in executive protection for situational awareness, vigilance in security operations, and the ability to adjust to environments and situations as needed. Above and beyond a typical protections specialist, AIF agents are adaptable and intelligent security practitioners that have honed their craft with close-quarters combat (CQC) techniques, police operational experience, military training, and education.

Research & Intelligence

- AIF are specialists at surveillance, covert information gathering, evidence collection techniques, and data management. The goal is to bring transparency to an issue that is typically shrouded in secrecy. AIF accomplishes this by unveiling the truth while providing our clients with the facts.
- By leveraging multi-level access to proprietary databases and applying innovative and industry-standard methodologies, AIF can provide our clients with a meticulous outline of the details in almost every situation.

Aerial Surveillance & Reconnaissance

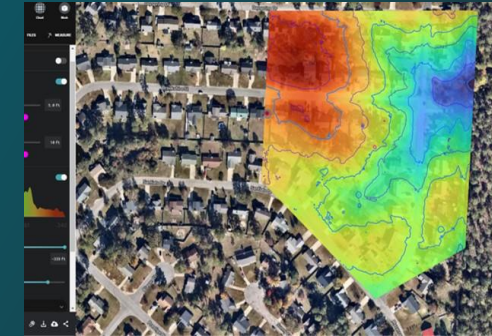

Search and Rescue Assistance

Search, and Rescue Assistance AIF can assist law enforcement and emergency services with advanced technology in highly detailed software to produce 3D models, conduct search and rescue (SAR) with the use of FLIR MSX Thermal imaging, a loudspeaker for audible responses, as well as spotlight capabilities.

Physical and Overhead Security

Physical and Overhead Security The advantage of the "high ground" is without question one of the most significant benefits obtained in security matters, with the use of FLIR MSX Thermal imaging, a loudspeaker for audible responses, as well as spotlight capabilities, AIF can provide that to clients, as well as password protection for data security.

Aerial Survey

Aerial Survey Our aircraft are also established with DJI AirSense sensors for real-time awareness of human-crewed aircraft to help mitigate risk in multi-aircraft operations.

K9 Security Services

- Also, AIF provides physical security screening with the use of explosives or narcotics detection canines, which can be deployed worldwide to a variety of locations, venues, terrain, and environments. AIF protection specialists put your interests above our own.

Conclusion

- AIF has over 50 years of combined experience in investigations, research, and security operations. AIF live and work by our company motto: “Semper Nobis Vigilandum” – Ever Vigilant.
- AIF will work diligently and vigilantly with each client and task to ensure AIF is "worthy" of your business.
